Reasons to pursue a PhD

Knowledge

Students will expand and hone high-level theoretical, methodological, and substantive expertise in public policy, as well as the communication skills necessary for successful careers in teaching and research.

Skills

Students will develop skills in empirical research to analyse policy problems. This enables students to apply various research designs in conducting rigorous policy research in their chosen fields, as well as develop the ability to critically evaluate policy research outputs.

The School has an excellent reputation, especially in Asia. It provides many opportunities to work with professors on joint papers, or to work on a research project conducted by one of the research institutes here. Those papers and projects open up doors for attending conferences, presenting your findings to policy-makers, and getting published."

- Mulya Amri, PhD alumnus (Indonesia)

Curriculum

The PhD curriculum requires students to complete the following within four years:

Tuition Fees (For Academic Year 2020/2021)

| PhD Tuition Fees per academic year | Academic Year 2020 / 2021 |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents (Subsidised Fees) ¹ | S$9,500 and S$10,000 respectively |
| International Students (Subsidised Fees inclusive of taxes) ² | S$15,000 |
| Non-subsidised Fees * (inclusive of taxes) ³ | S$38,750 |

¹Fee amounts quoted here for Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents are exclusive of prevailing taxes. The applicable taxes is subsidised by the Ministry of Education, MOE.

²Fee amounts quoted here for International Students are inclusive of prevailing taxes. International Students will have to bear the prevailing taxes (currently 7%) levied on the fees payable by them.

³Students who have previously enjoyed government subsidy or sponsorship by a Singapore government agency (such as scholarships offered by the Ministries, Public Service Commission and Statutory Boards) in a graduate programme will not be eligible for Ministry of Education (MOE) subsidy in another graduate programme at the same or lower level. Instead, such students will be liable to pay "Non-Subsidised Fees", inclusive of prevailing taxes. For example, students who had previously enjoyed subsidies/scholarship in a Master programme and had attained the Master degree will not be eligible for subsidies in another programme at Master or lower level.
