MASTER IN PUBLIC POLICY (MPP)

In the two-year Master in Public Policy (MPP) course, students focus on research and analysis, so that they can be effective in implementing, evaluating, and managing policies and programmes.

The MPP curriculum draws from economics, political science, and public management. A key component of the course is the Policy Analysis Exercise, where students undertake a public policy or management study for a client in the public, private, or not-for-profit sector. Their role is to conduct primary research and carry out in-depth analysis relating to an actual problem faced by their client, in order to offer policy recommendations.

CLASS OF 2019

68 out of 69 graduates responded to the graduate employment survey in 2019. Of the 68 respondents, 78% reported that they found employment. Of those who responded that they found employment, 18% indicated that they have returned to work for their previous employer. 22% reported that they found a new job in Singapore and 31% reported that they found a new job outside of Singapore.

Be an LKY School Partner

If you are looking for high-calibre talent to fill your organisation's internship or full-time employment needs, our Career Services team can work with you to develop a campus recruitment strategy to raise the profile of your organisation at the LKY School and find the right talent.

Reach out to Asia's Policy Talents

Our graduates are passionate, policy-savvy individuals, offering global perspectives and solutions to drive your organisation forward. Some of them are young professionals with between two and five years of work experience in the public, private, or not-for-profit sectors. Others may be mid-careerists who have held a supervisory role and have at least six years of work experience.

Our Internship Programme

We encourage our students to explore internships with the public, not-for-profit and multilateral sectors (such as international organisations, development banks and UN agencies).

Under the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy Internship Programme (LIP), students may apply for funding to carry out unpaid internships at public, not-for-profit, and multilateral organisations.

Participating organisations from the mentioned sectors would usually provide an 8-week internship during the school's summer vacation (i.e. May to July). If your organisation is keen to explore internship collaborations under the LIP, please contact Career Services.

All our services mentioned above are complimentary as we aim to make hiring easy and effective for you. You may choose from an array of recruitment initiatives, such as campus interviews, industry panels, recruitment talks, networking events and viewing student resumes.

For more information on the complimentary career services that we offer to employers, click here to download our flyer.

Join Our Career Events

Raise your organisation's profile and attract the right talent by participating in a host of career events throughout the year. These include recruitment talks, webinars, and networking events; the latest being our inaugural virtual career fair in April 2020.

These events offer a platform to get to know our students and alumni, in person or virtually so that you can assess if they are the right fit for your organisation.

Employers who have participated in our past career events included Asian Investment Infrastructure Bank (AIIB), Asian Development Bank, INTERPOL, Expedia, PwC, Prudential, Kroll, and KPMG.

Job & Internship Postings

Post your job and internship opportunities with us through the following platforms:

1. LKY School Job & Internship Portal

Simply send us your job description using our online form. (Click here to access the online form.) Your job or internship posting will then be posted on this portal.

2. NUS Talent Connect Portal

There is also the option for you to register for a complimentary NUS Talent Connect Portal. Doing so will enable you to access the wider NUS student community. The postings submitted on NUS Talent Connect can also be viewed by students (including undergraduates) from other schools within NUS, in addition to students from LKY School.
