REPORT HIGHLIGHTS

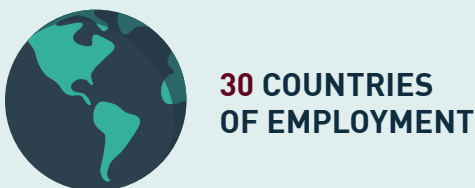

This report highlights the career journeys of our 2017 graduates. The results are based on face-to-face and e-mail surveys by our Career Services team, which were carried out in May and December 2017.

The LKY School saw 154 graduates in 2017, and 145 graduates (94%) responded to our surveys.

Of the respondents, 89% reported having found employment across 30 countries. More graduates found employment in Singapore in 2017 (20%), as compared to 2016 (13%).

As with previous alumni, our 2017 graduates have found fulfilling work in line with their passions and values, and we wish them well in making an impact around the world.

MASTER IN PUBLIC POLICY (MPP)

In the two-year Master in Public Policy (MPP) course, students focus on research and analysis, so that they can be effective in implementing, evaluating, and managing policies and programmes.

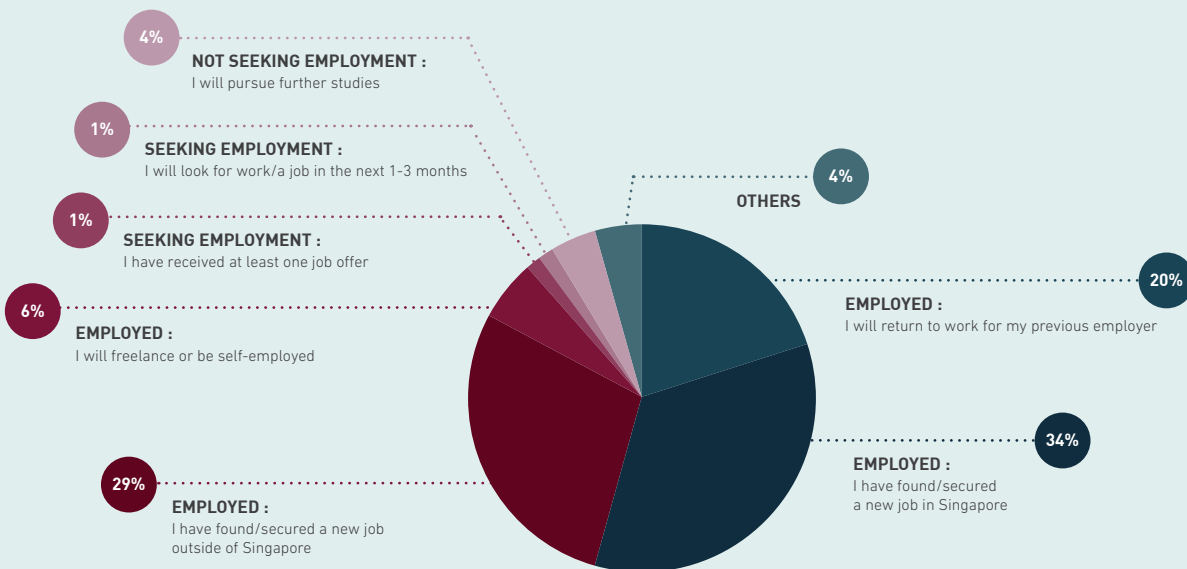

The MPP curriculum draws from economics, political science, and public management. A key component of the course is the Policy Analysis Exercise, where students undertake a public policy or management study for a client in the public, private, or not-for-profit sector. Their role is to conduct primary research and carry out in-depth analysis relating to an actual problem faced by their client, in order to offer policy recommendations.

CLASS OF 2017

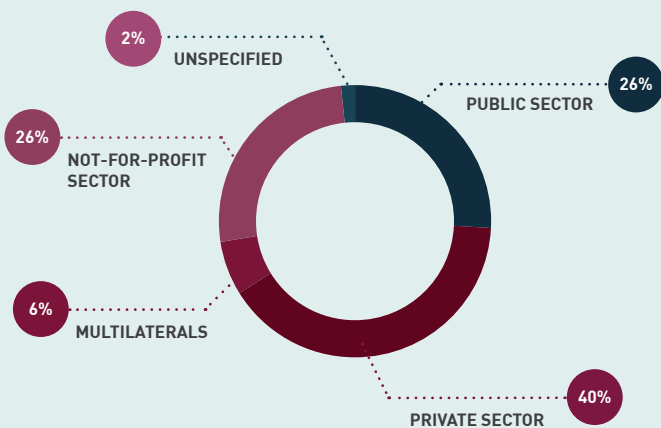

Seventy graduates reported their employment outcomes. Of these, 62 graduates (89% of respondents) had secured employment by December 2017.

The majority of MPP graduates (34%) took on private sector jobs; however, their roles often required them to interact with public sector partners. Their industries included consulting, technology, education, and research.

MASTER IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (MPA)

In the one-year MPA programme, students seek to understand the issues that affect national, regional, and global policies and projects. Through decision-making and leadership training, they acquire the skills to be 21st century public managers, capable of transforming today's challenges into opportunities for innovation and excellence.

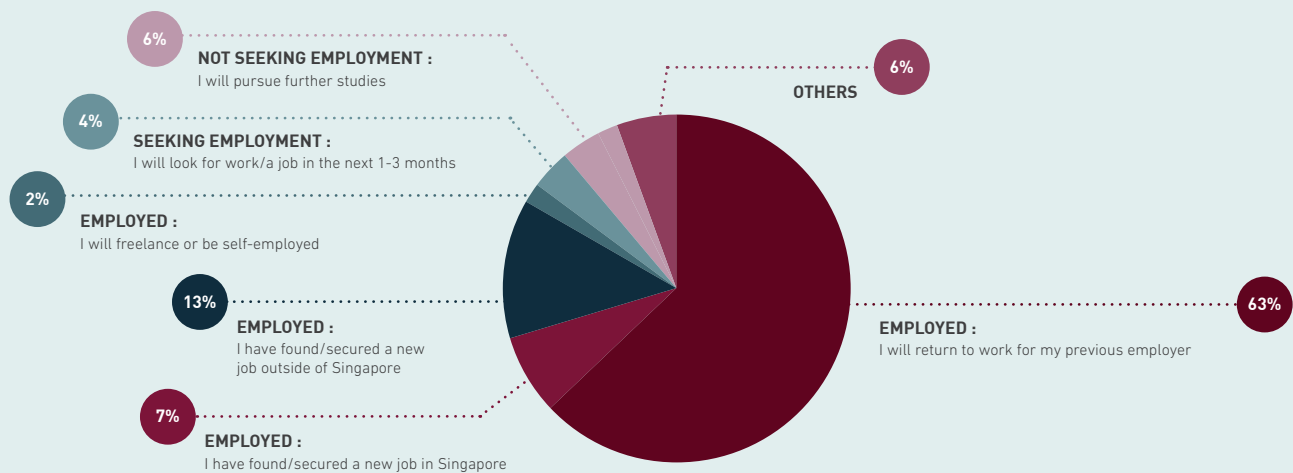

The cornerstone of the MPA programme is the Governance Study Project, where students immerse themselves in a real-life policy case study. During this project, they spend time in the country where the case study is based, engage stakeholders in discussion, and present their findings and recommendations to the stakeholders.

CLASS OF 2017

Fifty-four graduates (100%) reported their employment outcomes. Of these, 46 respondents (85%) had secured employment by December 2017, with the majority of graduates working for the government or the civil service. MPA graduates also found jobs in the education, not-for-profit, media, and financial industries.

BE AN LKY SCHOOL EMPLOYER PARTNER

We invite you to meet passionate, policy-savvy individuals who can offer global perspectives and solutions to drive your organisation forward.

If you are looking for high-calibre talent to fill your organisation's internship or full-time employment needs, let our Career Services team assist you.

Read on to find out about the complimentary resources that we offer to employers.

NETWORKING EVENTS

Career Services hosts Industry Night events up to four times a year, and other networking events throughout the year. During these events, you can increase your organisation's visibility on our campus and convey your organisation's mission and vision to those at the LKY School.

Industry Night offers an informal platform for networking—you can get to know our students and alumni in a relaxed setting, where you can better assess if they will be a good fit for your organisation. To participate, simply request for a complimentary recruitment booth (usually a standing cocktail table) at our next Industry Night.

Employers who have participated in past Industry Night events include Expedia, Discovery Networks Asia Pacific, Microsoft, Kroll, and KPMG.

JOB & INTERNSHIP POSTINGS

Your organisation can advertise open positions on the LKY School Job & Internship Portal, which is a free online resource for our students and alumni. To submit an internship or job opportunity to our portal, please contact Career Services.

INTERNSHIPS

If your organisation is seeking the expertise and fresh perspective of a graduate student with public policy or international affairs knowledge, please contact Career Services to discuss internship opportunities.

LKY SCHOOL INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME

To encourage our students to explore internships in the public, not-for-profit, and multilateral sectors, we have established the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy Internship Programme (LIP), where we provide funding to students who carry out unpaid internships with organisations in these sectors. Funds are allocated on a competitive basis, and successful applicants may receive funding of up to SGD1,500.

To partner with us to offer unpaid internships through the LIP, please contact Career Services.

ON-CAMPUS RECRUITMENT TALKS

Recruitment talks are an effective way to meet our students and showcase the internship and job opportunities available at your organisation.

Representatives from your organisation can conduct a standalone recruitment talk on our campus, or be part of our regular seminars featuring a panel of speakers from specific industries or professions.

Our on-campus recruitment talks usually take place on weekdays during lunchtime, from 12:15 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS/VIDEO INTERVIEWS

If you would like to interview our students in person, please contact Career Services to arrange for an on-campus interview. The team can also set up video interviews for employers who prefer to communicate with our students remotely.

MOCK INTERVIEWS

Career Services helps students to hone their interviewing skills by conducting mock interviews, where students interview with industry professionals in a simulated environment. If you are wondering how a public policy specialist can bolster your organisation, this is a chance to discover the strengths and skills that our students will bring to the table.

LKY SCHOOL SOCIAL MEDIA

To gain access to the network of LKY School students and alumni, and have your organisation's job opportunities featured in the LKY School's LinkedIn and Facebook groups, please contact Career Services.
