

ASIA COMPETITIVENESS INSTITUTE

The Asia Competitiveness Institute (ACI) was established in August 2006 as a research centre at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore (NUS). It aims to build intellectual leadership and network for understanding and developing competitiveness and sustainable growth in Asia. ACI's three key research pillars include (i) sub-national economies level competitiveness analysis, (ii) emerging sustainable development landscape in 16 Asia economies, and (iii) Asia's long-term growth strategies and public policy analysis.
