

DANNY QUAH

DEAN AND LI KA SHING PROFESSOR IN ECONOMICS

Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

Danny Quah is Dean and Li Ka Shing Professor in Economics at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore. His current research takes an economic approach to world order, studying the supply and demand of world order – on the one hand, what international system the world’s superpowers provide, and on the other, what world order the global community needs.

Mr. Quah uses this to recast analysis of global power shifts, the rise of the East, regional order, and models of global power relations.

Mr. Quah is a member of the Spence–Stiglitz Commission on Global Economic Transformation. He is the author of The Global Economy’s Shifting Centre of Gravity. Mr. Quah gave the third LSE–NUS lecture in 2013, and TEDx talks in 2016, 2014, and 2012. Mr. Quah was previously Assistant Professor of Economics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), and then Professor of Economics and International Development, and Director of the Saw Swee Hock Southeast Asia Centre at the London School of Economics (LSE). He had also served as LSE’s Head of Department for Economics, and Council Member on Malaysia’s National Economic Advisory Council.

Mr. Quah studied at Princeton, Minnesota, and Harvard.

📅 SESSIONS

» GLOBALISATION VS DE-GLOBALISATION: WHAT IS THE WORLD’S FUTURE?

» PUBLIC POLICY IN A WORLD OF SUPERHEROES

» ARE THE US AND CHINA DOOMED TO ENMITY?