

NG KOK HOE

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

Ng Kok Hoe is Assistant Professor at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy. He received his PhD and MSc degrees from the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). He previously worked in the Singapore civil service and continues to consult for the government and the voluntary sector on social policy issues and social service research.

Kok Hoe's research is concerned with ageing and poverty, old-age pensions and income security, public housing policy, social housing, and community-based social interventions.

📅 SESSIONS

» HOUSING ON THE MOVE: REDEVELOPMENT AND RELOCATION IN SINGAPORE

» EXTERNAL TOUR – MY QUEENSTOWN HERITAGE TRAIL

» INEQUALITY AND HUMAN WELL-BEING – A NEED FOR NEW IDEAS