

WONG YEE LOK

MASTER IN PUBLIC POLICY CANDIDATE

Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

Miss Wong Yee Lok is a Master in Public Policy candidate at Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy and was the Vice-President of Bridging GAP (Gender and Policy), a student-led group to enhance future policymakers' awareness of the challenges associated with gender-based inequalities. She is also a Young Scholar of Institute of New Economic Thinking. Yee Lok is interested in the study of economic and social policies to protect people from economic risks and insecurities of life. Her recent works include "The Shape of the Production Possibility Frontiers between Economic Growth and Income Equality in East Asia" and "Public Rental Housing of Two Productivist States: The Case Study of Hong Kong and Singapore". As a former athlete herself, she actively promotes sports as a tool for development. Before joining LKYSPP, she worked in a sports charity in Hong Kong to facilitate equal access to sports for youths – regardless of their economic background, gender, ethnicity and religion. Yee Lok holds a degree in Economics and Finance from the University of Hong Kong. She is also an independent commentator for Hong Kong newspaper, with a main focus on social policies in Hong Kong and Singapore.
