Thank you for being a part of the Singapore Panel Study on Social Dynamics (SPSSD). Your participation has been integral to our survey, which aims to understand challenges related to family cohesion and functioning. Your responses will help to shape robust and relevant social policies for Singaporeans.

Since 2015, we have conducted three waves of data collection and would like to share the findings from the Wave 2 survey with you. These findings are based on responses from the Heads of Households, about family relationships, social mobility and societal attitudes relevant to national identity.

My team and I would like to thank you for your continued support.
