

Stranger Conversations

at Singapore Perspectives
26 Jan 2026

Our community space
at Pearl's Hill Terrace

T

Tate Axel
2 reviews

★★★★★ 16 hours ago NEW

A public living room for all. The space is thoughtfully curated, with an array of events and people to meet. The flow allows real connection to happen at your own pace.

What stood out most was how safe and human the experience felt. There is a knowing just being here. You're not pressured to perform, impress, or overshare. Conversations unfold organically, and somehow you leave feeling lighter, more seen and connected.

Come by the space to experience it. It's surprisingly grounding.

Reply

Like

Share

Nancy

My Mom's First (Very Casual) Artshow

Cheryl's mom

Join us for a morning of stitches, stories & kueh!

You'll also try a simple embroidery stitch and take home something
you made yourself

Siu Tin aka Mom
aka @craftyestee

Cheryl, here for moral support & to hang things
on walls

This is the first time she's sharing her pieces outside our home.

We make it easy for people to host something for the first time.

My mom's first art show

A party at a wet market

A giving-centred livelihood

Historical forces shaping startups in Singapore

Building a museum for my great-grandfather

Writing and journaling circles

A cabaret workshop-performance

Fridays for people on a career break

Bring your own words

A powerpoint party of oddly specific topics

From my HDB flat to Antarctica

Singapore dreams we can unlearn

Trusting your own pace in life

Song-makers' sessions

Stories from hidden Himalayan communities

Stranger social for caregivers

My grandfather's tongue

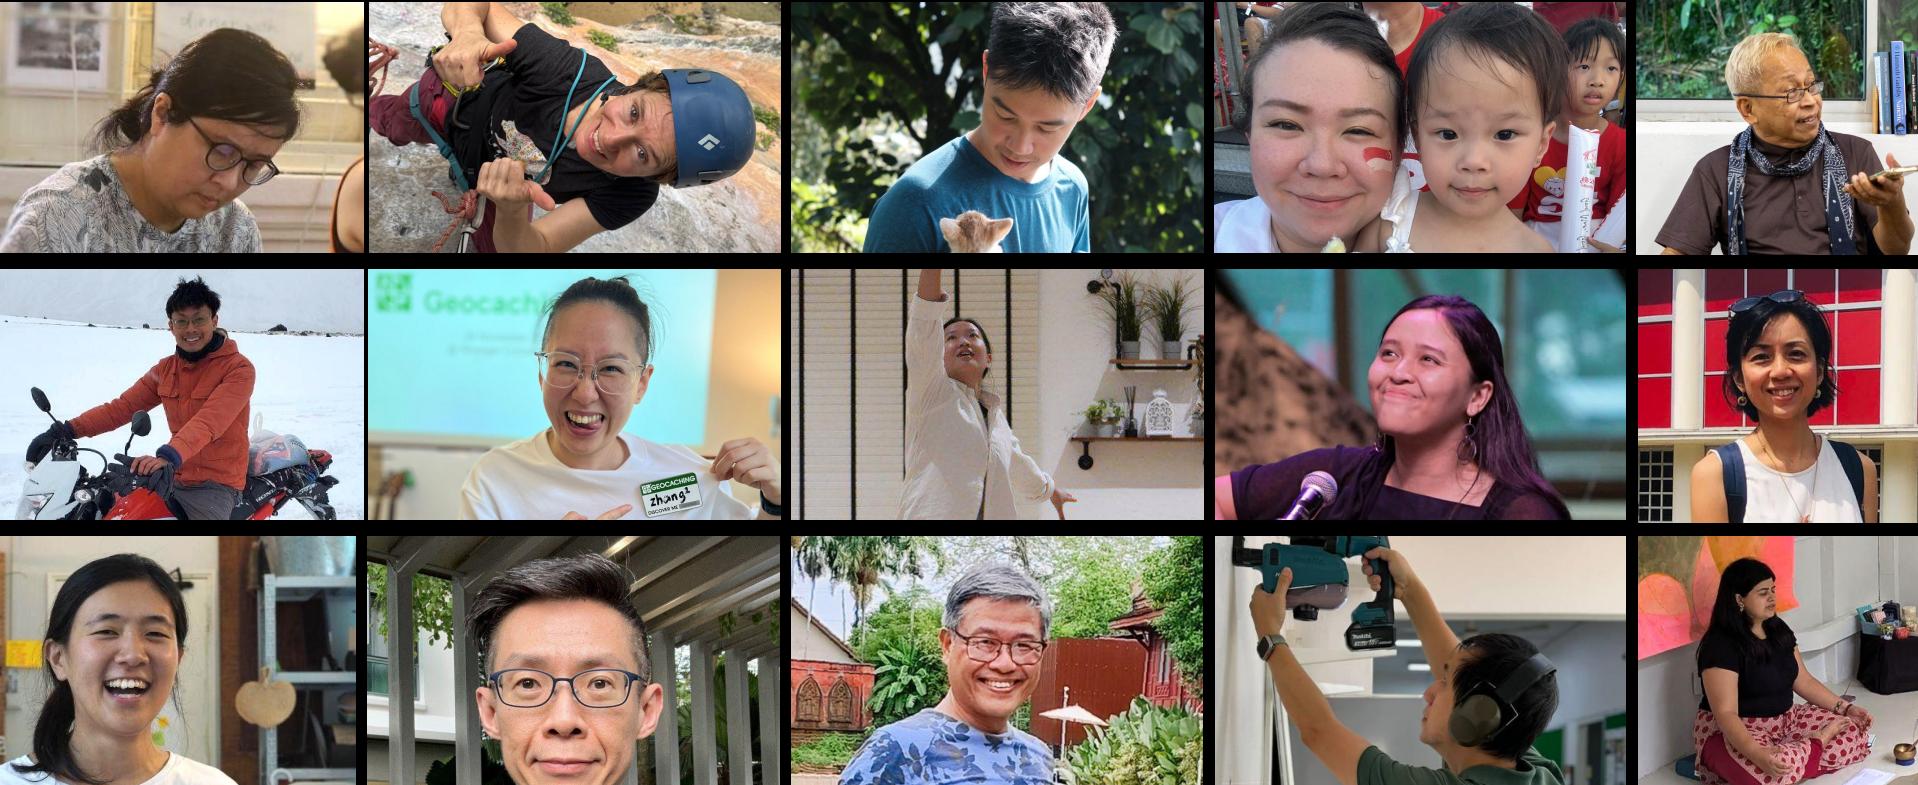

Indigenous lessons in being human

Small biz family - human library edition

6 years of adventures in intentional communities

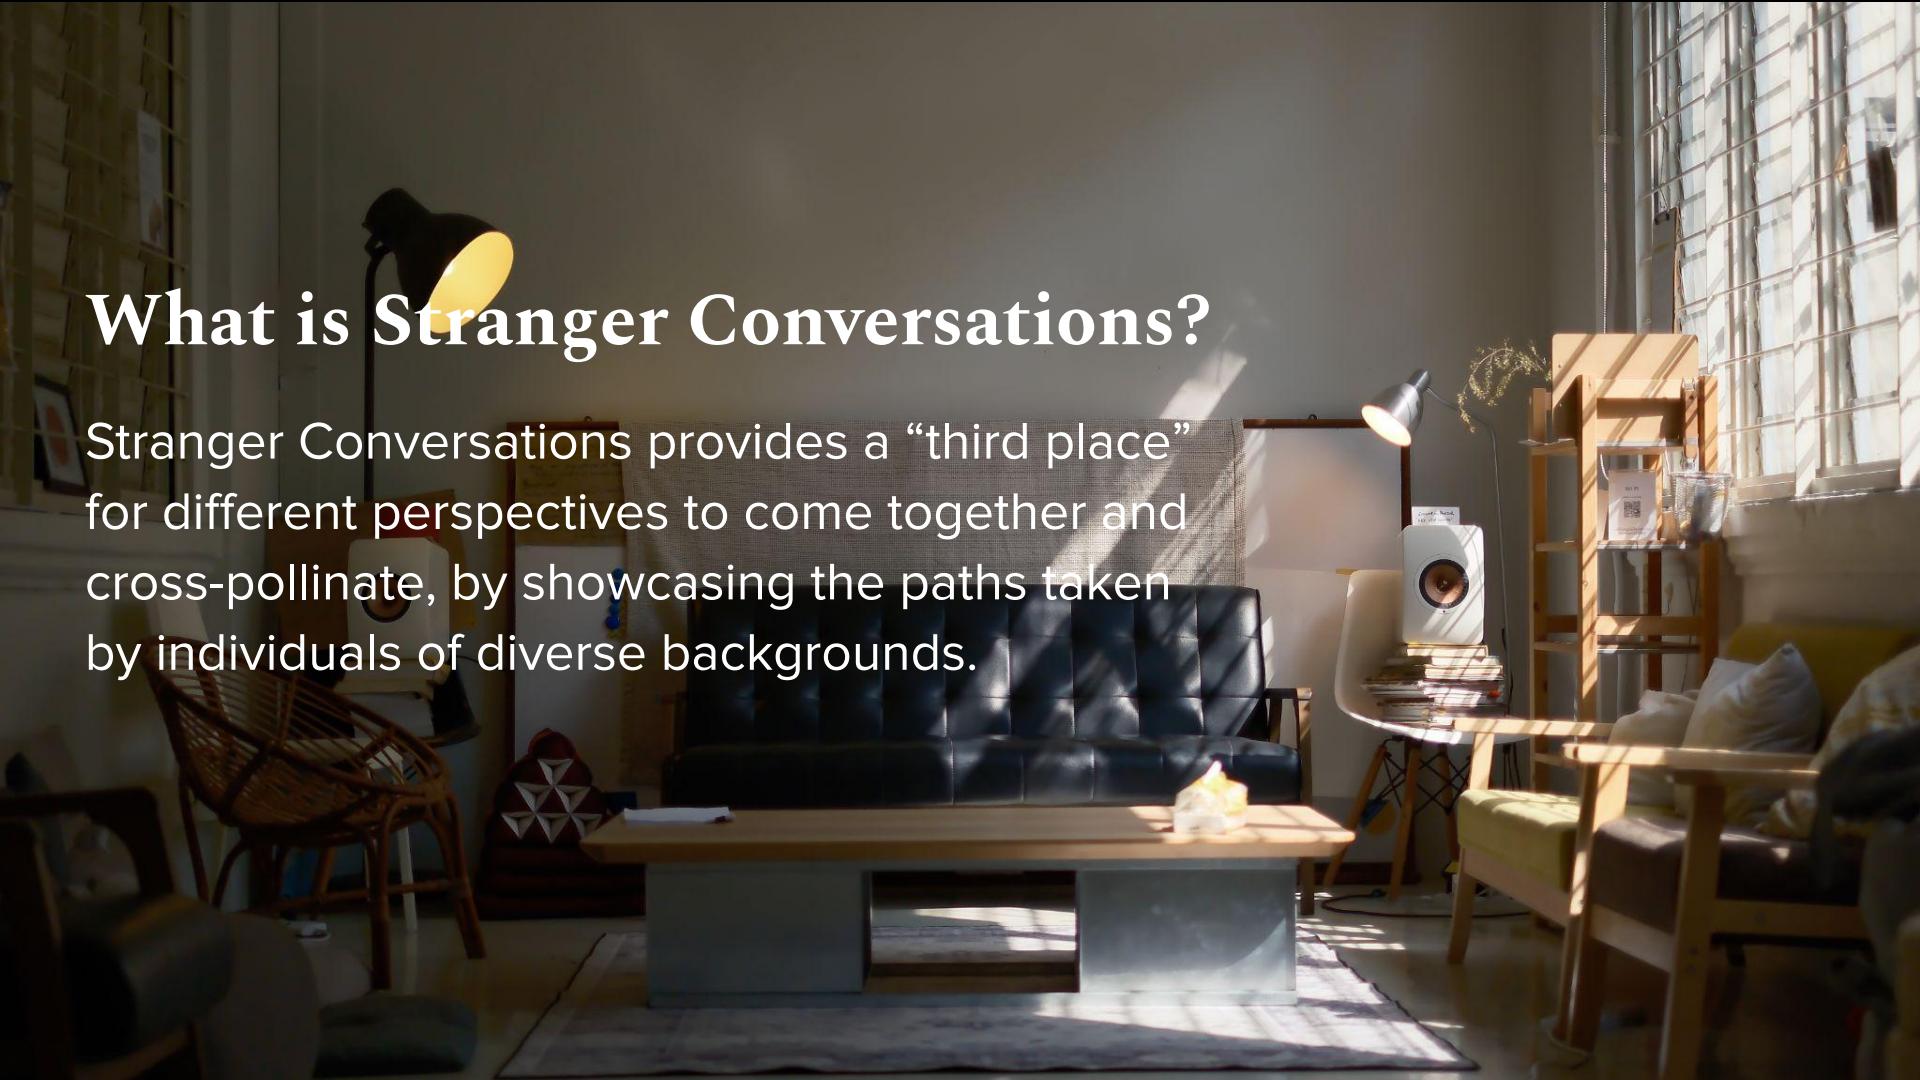

we've hosted > 400 events

Over time, a diverse community has come together.

What is Stranger Conversations?

Stranger Conversations provides a “third place” for different perspectives to come together and cross-pollinate, by showcasing the paths taken by individuals of diverse backgrounds.

What makes Stranger Conversations work.

The power of strangers

One thing leads to another

Showing hospitality to others

Come for the events, stay for the people

Stranger Conversation is a living prototype.
This year, we experiment with:

Memberships — for people who want deeper connections and a rhythm, stewardship over exclusivity

Containers / rituals for a self-organising Third Place

Applied curriculum for doing life transitions

“Our lives aren’t shaped by time alone, but by fertile stretches of change — often sparked by the people we meet.”

— Jin Shaun Ang, founder reflecting on Stranger Conversations

strangerconvos@gmail.com

Stranger Conversations
website

Instagram:
@strangerconvos