INSTITUTE OF POLICY STUDIES (IPS)

The Institute of Policy Studies (IPS) was established in 1988 as an independent think tank to study and generate public policy ideas in Singapore. IPS joined the National University of Singapore in 2008 as an autonomous research centre of the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, before transitioning to an autonomous research institute within the University in 2026. Today, IPS continues to analyse public policy, build bridges between thought leaders, communicate its findings to a wide audience, foster deliberation platforms to engage and educate the policy ecosystem and experiment through pilots. The Institute examines issues of critical national interest across a variety of fields and studies the attitudes and aspirations of Singaporeans through surveys of public perception. It adopts a multi-disciplinary approach in its analyses and takes the long-term view in its strategic deliberation and research. It also tests policy interventions through programme pilots and evaluations.

IPS CORPORATE ASSOCIATES PROGRAMME

IPS places great emphasis on engaging the business community. In 1992, we launched the IPS Corporate Associates (CA) Programme with the purpose of forging bonds between IPS and the business community and to build a strong network of business leaders who can provide insights towards policymaking from a wide range of viewpoints.

CAs receive invitations to exclusive, year-round engagements with senior government and public sector leaders, as well as prominent business and thought leaders from Singapore and abroad. They also enjoy access to IPS research and flagship events. Through the Programme, our CAs keep abreast of global developments, deepen networks and partnerships and participate in open dialogue on critical policy issues.
